Overview
The Test of Reading Comprehension – Fourth Edition (TORC-4; Brown, Wiederholt & Hammill, 2008) measures silent reading comprehension of contextual reading materials in students between the ages of 7 and 18. The test comprises five subtests: relational vocabulary, sentence completion, paragraph construction, text comprehension, and contextual fluency. The Reading Comprehension Index is a composite score based on the five subtests. Uses include identifying students who need help improving their reading proficiency and measuring student progress in remedial programs.
